DEATH'S DOINGS.

-WALTON .- At the solemn hour of midnight, September 16th, surrounded by her devoted husband and friends, Mrs. Panthea McKinney, wife of T. R. Walton, fell into that sleep that knows no earthly waking. Five years ago next week, in the same room, the almost identical crowd was gathered to witness her happy marriage to the man now bowed down in grief. It was a joyous occasion, strangely in contrast with the one enact. ed Monday night. Then all was hope and life and love; now hope has fled, hearts are wrung and eyes bedimmed as the life, recently so full of promise, slowly ebbs away. Husband, mother, father, sister, brother and friends are gathered an Anderson county firm 22 mule colts around to catch the last expiring sigh and mingle their tears in poignant grief, -A. M. Feland sold to Font Fox, of as Panthea's spirit takes its flight. It was to deepest emotion hearts unused to weep. Of a bright and sunny disposition, anxious always to make other people happy, Panthea was loved by all who knew her, and her death will be deeply deplored by many outside of her home circle. Years ago she accepted Christ ed child of God, and went to live forever at His right hand, where her loved ones can meet her in glory, if they are faithful to Him. The immediate cause of her death was peretonitis, but she suffered from a complication of diseases, of several physicians. During this long time her husband lovingly attended her and at no hour, night or day, since her sickness was he not near to minister to her every want. No man was ever more faithful in his duty of love and on this score he can have no regret. Everything was done for her that could be, but death had claimed her and his victory was only a question of time. The burial occurred at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, after a short service at the grave by Dr. Morris Evans, and then the mortal remains of the beloved was consigned to earth, to trump shall sound. The tender love of many friends was shown by floral offerin beautiful profusion. ### JOHN PROCTOR'S DEFENSE.

le is Not as Black as Painted, nor Are Rockcastle Republicans as Corrupt as Pictured. [To the Editor of the Interior Journal.]

Mt. Vernon, Sept. 16 .- During the last two years I have been attacked through the columns of your paper, both editorially and otherwise several times, and usually accompanied by a fling at the officers and republican party of this county. So far I have remained silent and had hoped after my vindication by the grand jury last week, upon one of the most serious charges made against me, that I would be let alone; but a new correspondent, purporting to be from Maretsburg, who tries to hide his identity under the disguise of "A Citizen," has launched forth with envenomed pen and false statements, so that I now believe it to be my duty to show the other side of the picture and trust you will do me the justice to publish what I have to say. I shall not undertake to reply to all the articles and comments referred to, but will confine myself to those before me, viz. your editorial in the issue of Aug. 13th and "A Citizen" of Sept. 10th. You say in the editorial mentioned, among other things, that I am "a brutal desperado and made a dastardly effort to assassinate Editor Cress," whom you say was unarmed, and therefore not being on equal footing scene, &c. Now, Mr. Editor, I have faults, as have some other men, but I am behaving the best I know how and want to live in peace with all men, and I don't think I am as bad as you represent me. I am not all bad, for my worst enemy will tell you I am a sober man Is a Candidate for Surveyor of Lincoln county, subject to the Democratic Primary Election, to be held October 19, 1889.

enemy will tell you I am a sober man and not given to making false statements: this is more than can be truthful. ments; this is more than can be truthfully said of some of them. But to your charges, I deny each of them and judging from the language you use, I fear you have fallen from grace somewhat and have forgotten the promises you made your readers last winter when afflicted. * You must have been a little off your base when you wrote that editorial.

> I say now, as I have told Mr. Cresss and my friends, that I had no intention to assassinate him, and I never shot at him. I may have done wrong, and the circumstances are against me, yet this statement is true. When I accosted him it was my intention to ask him why he had published unjust statements as to my conduct on election day and to correct them; but knowing he was gong armed and that he was a larger man than I, and had the use of both hands while I could use only one, being shot and disabled in my right shoulder and arm, I went prepared to defend mysel attempted to draw his pistol before I exhibited mine, but being too quick for him he let his drop back in his pocket and ran for the hotel door, and to hasten his flight and prevent his returning, when perhaps one or both of us would have been hurt, I shot, when he was 30 feet away, into the air above and to the left of him, the ball not going nearer than 4 or 5 feet and not at him. I could have shot him when he was near me and first turned to run.

You say I "butchered Marshal Parker, from the effects of which he died." and that I "figured in several other killings." This is not true. Parker got well and married and lived several months, when he died from disease, as was published in your paper, the doctors who held a post mortem examination having so stated. Now, it seems to me, before making a statement so detrimental to an humble individual as myself, you should at least consult the files of your own paper on the subject and see if it is true. Nor is it true that I "have figured in several other killings for which I should have felt the halter draw." Nor is it true the laws are administered in this county in a farsical manner. Nor do I think the time has come for "the good people of this coun-Settle With James Frye. ty to rise up in arms to restore it to the good name it once had." No, Mr. Editor, the day is past for regulating things here by men in arms independent of drowned while crossing a stream near law. There was a time, before the re- Leavenworth, Kas. publicans came into power, when a few misguided men from this county, assisted by some from yours, (all disguised,) baser passions are aroused by such articles and editorials as I am replying to. If, however, you succeed in this enterprise, I suggest you come along, not to whip or kill or tie the knot, but simply

Now in reply to "A Citizen" I have to ty, nor has that party adopted a tyranic al rule that has grown worse until the county is in a deplorable condition. Upon the contrary, if time and space would dicted, but fled the country before arrested. All there is of the Norton-Pitman matter is, they had a row on their way home from the election in which shots were exchanged. For this both were indicted and Norton's name coming first on the docket his case was called and tried and he acquitted or a bung jury, I am not sure which. It was developed during this trial, owing to the contradictory nature of the evidence, that Pitman could not be convicted and with the consent of Norton (the parties in the meantime having become friendly) the case was either filed away or dis-

A Citizen says in August, 1888, the democrats were running in stray votes with boodle, I suppose, as they did last August) and that Jailer Arnold gave me a "huge pistol with which to intimidate democrats, &c." This is a lie made out of whole cloth. I had no pistol on that day, but for a minute or so, at one time, when an effort was made to kill Arnold, who was unarmed, and I got that by snatching it out of another man's hand. It is true I am a republican, and one from principle and expect to live and die one, but I accord to every man a right to vote as he pleases, without being questioned, the same as I assume for

"A Citizen" further says, Judge Collier had me appointed deputy jailer and with such "infernal scoundrels" left the to do his bidding, &c." This is untrue. that I "had been at his command, ready He says Colyer appointed me constable, this is true and is the only straight truth he tells. Colyer appointed me after consulting with a number of good citizens My New House on Main St., of the town and county of both political parties, and it is further true that a majority of my bondsmen were democrats. It is further true that when I was called upon to arrest and disarm a republican, soon after my appointment, who had the reputation of being dangerous, and of whom it was said some officers stood in awe, succeeded in doing so without trouble. Some of the men who are my traducers now, then said I was the only man for the place, but when I undertook to discharge a similar duty and the party happened to be a democrat, I was wrong, Judge Colyer was wrong and things were wrong generally, in other words "the case being altered, altered the case.' Now, as to my conduct on election day. A grand jury after examining 26 witness- NAPIER es and a week's investigation refused to indict me, in fact, so I learn, they took three ballots at different times and Dr. R. C. NEEL, Proprietor. there was not a hand raised at any time Having refitted and refurnished the above House, in favor of finding a true bill. This, I think, is sufficient vindication to any fair-minded and unprejudiced man. Nor was this grand jury composed of 14 republicans and 2 democrats, as your cor- A Brick House and Lot, factory prices. should he take my demand as an insult respondent states, and I am satisfied if on Somerset street, at present occupied by Mr. they had all been of either party, if they G. B. Cooper. A very desirable place and can be were conscientious, fair men, the result would have been the same.

Neither the officers nor the republican party need any defense at my hands, nor that of any other, so I pass that quesnor that of any other, so I pass that question; nor does Judge Colver, but as he Farm near McKinney, Ky. The has been particularized and emphasized and characterized by "A Citizen" as a "thick-headed hill billy, &c." it may be well enough to notice these slanders if only for a moment. Judge Colver is known and recognized by those who have personal acquaintance with him as have personal acquaintance with him as a christian gentleman and an upright judge and the, cream in the cocoanut will be found in the fact that "A Citiwill be found in the fact that "A Citizen" and some others have long sought the position he holds and mourned because they found it not. But vituperation and slander will not avail them; he can stay there longer if he so desires, so far as they are able to prevent it. The disguise of "A Citizen," does not fully disguise your Maretsburg correspondent and good men living there of his own party, repudiate his article and say he does not live there, and hereafter if he has any facts to give the reading public, let him sign his name and give his location correctly, so that his readers may know who and what he is and as a just and truthful correspondent will.
